The City College of New York Student Chapter of the American Society of Landscape Architects invites students and professionals from architecture, landscape architecture, engineering, urban design, urban planning, sustainability, and real estate fields to attend a day-long symposium and charrette to identify opportunities and strategies to expand the scope of green infrastructure. This is an opportunity for the next generation of urbanist thinkers to catalyze an interdisciplinary and protracted approach to urban design.

KEYNOTE / 9:30 - 10:15 AM
Mark A. Focht, Deputy Commissioner / Chief Operating Officer, NYC Parks

PANEL 1: HOW CAN WE DESIGN GREEN INFRASTRUCTURE WITH GREATER IMPACT? / 10:30 - 12:00 PM
- Rebecca Hill, RAFT
- David Seiter, Future Green Studio
- Alex Renner, E-Design
- Thomas Reeves, FXOWLE
Moderator: Andrew Lavallee, SiteWorks

BYO BROWN BAG LUNCH / 12:00 - 1:00 PM

PANEL 2: HOW CAN GREEN INFRASTRUCTURE ENGAGE MORE PEOPLE AND PLACES? / 1:00 - 2:30 PM
- Shaun O’Rourke, Green Infrastructure Director, The Trust for Public Land
- Jason Smith, Biodiversity Ecologist, NYC Dept. of Environmental Protection
- Lindsay Campbell, USDA Forest Service, NYC Urban Field Station
- Thomas Rainer, Co-author, Planting in a Post-Wild World
Moderator: Andrew Lavallee, SiteWorks

GOWANUS BLUE CHARRETTE: DESIGNING FOR ZERO CSOs
INTRODUCTION / 2:45 - 3:15 PM
Andrea Parker, Executive Director, Gowanus Canal Conservancy

WORKSHOP / 3:15 - 4:15 PM
Break into interdisciplinary groups to address design challenge

CONCLUSION / 4:15 - 5:00 PM
Presentation of designs and final remarks

FRIDAY APRIL 14, 2017
9:30 AM - 5:00 PM

HUNTER COLLEGE AUDITORIUM
East 68th Street & Lexington Ave (SW corner)

Advanced registration required.
Visit: www.aslany.org/event/rising-urbanists/

Students: $10
Professionals: $25 (3 LA CES credits offered)

For more information:
greenurbanisminfo@gmail.com

Sponsored by: